DESCRIPTION

Wall-mounted corner console designed by Charlotte Perriand for the Nova residence, developed at Les Arcs 1800 between 1976 and 1981.

Crafted in solid pine, it features an asymmetrical shape specifically designed to optimize the compact living spaces of mountain apartments. The top incorporates a characteristic ergonomic cut-out as well as a circular opening intended for a lamp or electrical fitting. Mounted directly to the wall, this console perfectly reflects Charlotte Perriand's functional approach, where every element contributes to the overall organization of space.
