

Blown glass Soliflore by Claude Morin, Dieulefit circa 1975

Claude Morin

120

REF: 7489

Height: 17 cm (6.7")

Diameter: 11 cm (4.3")

DESCRIPTION

Small blown glass vase by Claude Morin, a key figure in the renewal of glass art in France during the 1970s. From his studio in Dieulefit, he developed a style both pure and expressive, playing with transparency and the bubbles naturally trapped in the material.

Mouth-blown in lightly tinted glass with fine bubbles, this slender vase features a rounded base opening onto a long cylindrical neck. Its simple, refined silhouette makes it an ideal soliflore and a testament to the artisanal gesture of the artist.

Signed underneath the base: Morin Dieulefit.