

Marble dining table model "Kampur" By Michele de Lucchi, Up&Up, circa 1980

3,800

Michele De Lucchi

REF: 6803

Height: 73 cm (28.7")

Diameter: 130 cm (51.2")

DESCRIPTION

Kampur Dining Table, designed by Michele De Lucchi, circa 1980.

Sculptural and refined, the Kampur dining table is distinguished by its harmonious interplay of form and material. The substantial circular base supports an ovoid column, which elevates a thick, round Carrara marble tabletop, delicately inlaid with striking Nero Marquina marble. The contrast between the luminous white of Carrara and the deep, dark veining of Nero Marquina creates a bold, graphic presence, exuding sophistication and elegance.

Reflecting Michele De Lucchi's signature design approach in the 1980s, the table blends sculptural elements with functional form, turning an everyday object into a statement piece.

The Kampur table exemplifies the craftsmanship of Up & Up, an Italian manufacturer renowned for its mastery in marble and fine materials, showcasing the pinnacle of Italian design.

Manufacturer: Up & Up, circa 1980.