DESCRIPTION

Pair of square coffee tables, model 771, designed by Tobia Scarpa for Cassina, circa 1965. These elegant tables feature an interlocking solid walnut structure, supported by four rectangular legs. The reversible tops offer one side in walnut veneer and the other in black laminate, allowing for a variety of atmospheres and making it easy to adapt the furniture to different interior styles.

This flexibility, combined with the geometric simplicity of their design, makes them both functional and timeless pieces. One of the tables still bears a partial label.

Manufacturer : Cassina, Italy, circa 1965.
