DESCRIPTION

A remarkable set of six chairs designed by the celebrated painter, designer, and decorator Francis Jourdain. These chairs showcase Jourdain's signature modernist aesthetic, characterized by clean lines and functional elegance. Each piece features a sturdy square tubular frame crafted from solid oak, offering both durability and timeless appeal. The seats and backrests are meticulously woven with natural rope, adding warmth and texture to the minimalist structure.

This set was produced by Les Ateliers Modernes, Jourdain's renowned woodworking workshop, known for its dedication to craftsmanship and high-quality materials. Established to create practical yet beautifully designed furniture, the workshop played a key role in shaping modern interior design.

With a seat height of 46 cm, these chairs are perfect for enhancing a dining room or contemporary space with authentic modernist charm.
