DESCRIPTION

---

Bulbous-shaped vase designed by Robert and Jean Cloutier in 1965.

Made of red clay coated with white glaze, this vase stands out for its striking decoration featuring two raised mascarons depicting horned impish faces, rendered in subtle shades of brown. The contrast between the pale glaze and the sculptural details highlights the whimsical expressiveness and distinctive world of the Cloutier brothers.

Signed "Cloutier" on the underside.

Provenance: Artists' studio.

A certificate of authenticity issued by the widows of Robert and Jean Cloutier will be provided to the buyer.
