DESCRIPTION

Les 2 Potiers was the name used by Michelle Bargoin and Jacques Serre, who worked together from 1956 to 1970. Based in central France, they created a body of work at the intersection of decorative ceramics and interior design, marked by layered glazes, textural contrasts, and restrained geometric compositions. Their tiled furniture was notably distributed by Roche Bobois.

This rare set of three coffee tables features black lacquered metal frames and ceramic-tiled tops. Each surface
